

Spencer's products are exported to 230 countries in the world, in which the operative and homologation regulations are not always the same. For this reason there may be some differences between what is described here and the products received. Spencer is constantly working towards the perfection of all of its products. For this reason we count on your comprehension if we have to reserve the right to introduce changes to what is written here in relation to the form, colour, equipment and to the technique applied to certain products.
